

I think one thing -- maybe a fundamental and joyful thing of course -- that I like about Hispanics is that they take whatever it is and retener it -- make ten of each of the thing, perceptual, concept, relationship, or relational they have.

That would lead to astonishing expressions of society and also of literature and the arts and everyday expression! And the many-fold aspects to life, this very existence and inner-most being-ontological-societal (and acintya!-societya! expression!).

-- Kevin A. Sensenig
-- Lancaster, PA USA
-- 2022 February 20 ET CE